INFORMATION ABOUT COVID-19

COVID-19 spreads easily and is believed to be spread primarily through airborne droplets from an infected person's speech, coughs, and sneezes, and possibly through contaminated surfaces. When enough droplets from the air enter the mouth or nose of another person, that person becomes infected. People with and without known symptoms can spread the virus to others, person to person.

People with underlying health conditions have a higher risk for an adverse outcome from a COVID-19 infection. These could include: being older than 60 years old, diabetes, severe obesity, known respiratory conditions, renal disease, known cardiac disease, including hypertension and immunocompromised conditions (HIV, cancer, post-transplant, Prednisone treatment), and other underlying health problems.

Understanding risk, but also recognizing benefits of visits with loved ones to reduce feelings of social isolation and loneliness, Kingston will begin OUTDOOR VISITATION with stringent visitation policies to mitigate the risks to our population.

CONDITIONS UNDER WHICH VISITATION MAY BE CHANGED: Kingston will continue to monitor our ability to meet safe environmental conditions. Visitation is subject to change if Kingston is not able to maintain risk mitigation strategies to ensure the safety of our residents, staff, and visitors. VISITATION MAY BE LIMITED under CAUTIONARY discretion of management and STOPPED if environmental or resident risk increases individually or community-wide.

Residents under COVID-19 fourteen (14) day observation period or who are ACTIVE COVID-19 are not eligible for visitation
